An Indian Who Stood Punishment Rather Than Tell Where He Obtains His Supply of Rum.

ARLEE, M. T., Feb. 12. - [Special Correspondence of the Independent ]-The Indian police at the Flathead reservation got a pointer the other night that a member of the tribe went to Missoula for a member of the tribe went to Missoula for a supply of whiskey, and when the west bound train arrived at Arlee the Indian police arrested the suspected man, who proved to be Grand Joe, who had a gallon jug of whiskey with him. Joe was taken by the police to Chief Arlee's house and interrogated as to where he purchased the fire water, but the Indian refused to inform upon the man who sold him the whiskey, preferring to go to the Indian jail and serving out a term in prison, or to receive from fifty to one hundred lashes rather than testify against the whiskey vender. The Indian police have taken the matter in hand and are decembered not to rest until they find evidence to prosecute dealers who sell whiskey to their people.

Grand Joe took a change of venue from the Indian judges and appealed his case to Agent Ronan. In presence of a full council of Indians, Grand Joe confessed to supply of whiskey, and when the west

The Indian polece have taken the matter in hand and are determined not to rest until they find evidence to prosecute dealers who sell whiskey to their people.

Grand Joe took a change of venue from the Indian judges and appealed his case to Agent Ronan. In presence of a full council of Indians, Grand Joe confessed to having brought whisky upon the reservation, and also stated that he got the liquor from a middle man—a white man who makes a business of the traffic. This individual takes the money with which to purchase the whisky from the Indian and is paid one dollar as commission for each galion he purchases. He shows the Indian a hiding place, and when the whisky is procured it is deposited in the cache, where the Indian finds it and rides off. In this way the Indians procure all they want of the vilest stuff. Instead of imprisonment or the lash Joe asked that he might be fined a mare and a colt for breaking the law. This fine was imposed upon him by the Indian judges as requested. The mare and colt will be sold by the Indian judges and the proceeds applied to charitable purposes among the Indians.

In a private letter from Washington Major Ronan is informed that Hon. J. K. Toole's bill for the sale of Bitter Root Indian lands passed the house on the 6th of February, and the bill is so particularly favorable to the Indians that the writer thinks there is no question about its passing the senate. This news, will be halled with pleasure by the citizens of Bitter Root valley and to remove to the Jocko or Flathead reservation.

In regard to the reservation.

In regard to the reservation.

In regard to your communication, dated April 13, 1886, with reference to white men married to squaws, Maj. Ronan, of the Flathead Indian agency stated that in 1886, in answer to a letter from him, addressed to the Indian office in Washington, he received substantially the following reply: "In regard to your communication, dated April 13, 1886, with reference to white men married to women of Indian blood, in which may be a substa usual to allow such men to reside with their families on the reservation, so long as they conduct themselves properly, and their presence is not objectionable to the Indians. If they are unfit persons to reside in the Indian country, or their conduct or example in any way is injurious to the Indians, they should be removed from the reservation. If they are men of good character and their conduct such as to set a good example to Indians, I see no objection to their remaining on the reservation and cultivating farms for the support of their families, it being understood that all interests in such farms and improvements are vested in the wife—and that no more land must be taken by any one person than and must be taken by any one person than his wife is entitled to as a member of the tribe. All white men living with Indian women should be required to be legally married, and upon rafusal should be imme-diately expelled from the reservation."

MINES AND MINING.

Gould Tunnel Contract-Park Mine-Empire Mine.

builder, was yesterday awarded the contract for boring the 4370-foot tunnel on the Jay Gould property. This is undoubtedly the largest mining tunnel ever proposed in the territory. Mr. Young will personally superintend the work. He has had considerable experience in tunnel boring, having been identified with nearly all the prominent tunnels of Colorado, Montana and British Columbia. As time is of the utmost importance, the work will be prosecuted with vigor. Rand drills will be used with an air compressor, together with sucwith an air compressor, together with suction fans for supplying fresh air. An effort will be made to have the bore completed by June 1, 1890. It is estimated that $80,000 will be the cost. Mr. Young leaves for Jay Gould to-day.

Manager G. W. Jackson, of the Park mine in Madison county, returned from a visit there a couple of days ago. He took made a thorough examination of the property. Mr. Luther it was who brought the Drum Lummon into prominence. Together with Mr. Gore he has been testing samples of the ores from the mine and was busy all day yesterday writing up his report which will be submitted to the company to-day. Mr. Jackson states that while he was at the mine a blast in the face of the 550-foot tunnel exposed a breast of ore as wide as the face itself, which is nine feet. A poor sample of this assayed $30.20 in gold and silver, while the best ran $125 per ton. Twenty men are engaged in development. A carload of ore has been sacked and was to have been shipped yesterday to the Helena smelting works. Mr. Jackson thinks the ore throughout will averge $48 per ton.

Superintendent R. B. Wallace, of the Empire, is in the city. To a reporter last night, relative to the report that he had dendered his resignation, said he had done that a month ago, but no action had been taken on it as yet. As soon as his tender was received in London he was cabled to suspend operations for the present. Asked why he desired to resign, he said for the simple reason that the mine would not pay, and he doesn't think any one can make it pay. "There are thousands of tons of ore in sight," he continued, "but it is of very low grade. There is enough there to keep the 60-stamp mill running for years but what is the use in working away when there are no profits or anything coming in for the benefit of the stockholders. The mine pays expenses and that is about all. I saw how the thing was running and decifor the benefit of the stockholders. The mine pays expenses and that is about all. I saw how the thing was running and decided to shut down and pay the men off, which was done. There is not a better looking mine in the country. It is well timbered and the mill is in splendid shape, such in fact that it can be started up in half a day's notice. I don't think the property will lay idle very long, however."

Mr. Wallace is of the opinion that to get better ore, which he firmly believes exists in the mine, it will be necessary to sink better ore, which he firmly believes exists in the mine, it will be necessary to sink further down; and to do this requires more capital, which the company does not feel disposed to give. Owing to the water at the 125-foot shaft in the tunnel, which enters the Whippoorwill mine at the 550 level, the cost of mining the ore is rather expensive. He thinks that to get at ore which will pay, some extensive development will have to be done.

In relation to the reported difficulty with the workmen, he says the story is made out

In relation to the reported difficulty with the workmen, he says the story is made out of whole cloth and is being agitated by two Cornishmen. One of these was on the stump during the campaign and because he couldn't secure an audimete to suit him he swore to get even, and is using this method. The miners take no stock in it, and Mr. Wallace says there is not one of the men who wouldn't go to work for him in a minute.

Epoch: Miss Maria M. Dean is a homœoathic physician who took a little office and ung out her sign three years ago in Hel-Mont., which has a population of bout eighteen thousand souls. Miss Dean ever practiced anywhere else. Her income last year was between $11,000 and $12,000. Born in Madison, Wis., she was graduated from the Wisconsin University and from a Boston medical school. Then she went all alone to Berlin to still further prosecute her studies, where she encountered great difficulties in gaining admission to a hospital until Prot. Schroeder interested himself in her cause. This gained for her full opportunities to study in her chosen field of medicine. Dr. Dean is about 30 years old and is said to be a woman of remarkable ability. A Great Blizzard. MONTREAL, Feb. 15 -The blizzard which started in last night and is still raging is the worst so far this season. The snow tall has not been very heavy, but the wind terrific, and the dry snow has been whirled into great drifts, making travel exceedingly difficult in the cities, while in the outlying districts it is totally out of the question. Railroad travel is thoroughly demoralized, outgoing trains are cancelled, and incoming ones kid away in the snowdrifts, some of them having been reported and others not. Several people are reported frozen to death.

Work of Maryland Barn Burners. K. covered, is creating a reign of terror in frederick and Carroll counties. Over a dozen barns were burned, the owners first receiving notice to remove their implements and stock. The incendiaries use a ball of wet phosphorus with gunpowder inside. When the phosphorus dries a spontaneous combustion and explosion follow. No possible reason for their deviltry is known.

I was suffering from an unusually bad cough, my lungs were sore and congested, and I consuited one of the best physicians in Helena, whose prescriptions failed to relieve me. I became alarmed, and at the suggestion of a friend purchased a bottle of Acker's English Remedy for coughs, and after taking it according to directions was completely cured. I therefore cheerfully recommend it.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Rhaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hearse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

Thomas J. Rushing, Esq., 2002 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Dr. Leibig & Co., specialists for alli diseases of men, however induced, and no matter how inveterate; speedily, thoroughly and permanently cured. Recent cases radically cured in a few days. Dizziness of the head, Weakness of advancing years, and all "relaxed, languid exhausted" conditions of the vital forces, speedily cured. Thorough examination, including analysis and microscopical examination of urine, $5.00. The reason thousands cannot get cured of seminal weakness, spermatorrhes, loss of manhood, and other complaints resulting from follies of youth, or excess of maturity, is to a complication called prostatorrhes, or hyperesthesis, which requires special treatment. Dr. Leibig's Invigorator number one, is the only cure for the former trouble, and number two is the only known remedy for the complication alove named—Prostatorrhes. Price of either invigorator $2.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $10. A two dollar bottle sent free on application to prove the wonderful power of this great remedy. S. rongest electric beits free to patients. Call or address.
